An act of kindness in our community

Elderly people are likely to be deeply affected by periods of isolation. We have lots of care homes and nursing homes in our local community. Perhaps you and your child would like to write a letter or draw a picture to send to the residents to brighten up their day?

Stay active!

The Joe Wicks 5 minute move videos on YouTube are perfect for children, even when they're stuck indoors.

If you are well enough to, enjoy a mini workout together with your child, exercise releases happy hormones.

5 Minute Move | Kids Workout 5 | The Body Coach TV - YouTube

'PE with Joe' starts Monday 23rd March at 9am (every weekday morning) as the children will not be able to do regular PE lessons.

Audiobooks are a brilliant multi-sensory approach to reading. You can find free audiobooks for children on sites such as StoryNory, Lit2Go, or you can start a free trial on Audible. Maybe your child would like to record themselves reading a story, too?

Did you know that author
Oliver Jeffers is reading aloud one of his books a day on social media? You'll find him on Twitter @OliverJeffers

We use social stories to help children with autism understand difficult social situations. If you would like one about a particular situation, email Mrs Curry.

Stories about the virus and school closure are being sent out via parentmail and have been shared with the children.

WHAT IS THE CORONAVIRUS?

Young Minds intend to keep the parent helpline open during the current situation. f you are worried about your child's mental health give them a call for advice. 0808 802 5544

Keeping a routine

There are a lot of suggested daily routines online, here are some ideas to keep your children occupied should school close during term time or if you are self-isolating.

In school, we find that having a routine in place helps to reduce children's worries and it helps them to manage their behaviour as they have clear expectations. Providing them with a visual of what the day has in store also helps them to know what is happening and in turn reduces any worries.

Please email Mrs Curry if you would like a visual timetable emailed to you.

A few tips for getting started:

- Take time to adjust. There are lots of ideas on Facebook, Twitter and other social media. You do not have to do all of them all! You know what is best for your child and your family's circumstances.
- You may need to try out a few ideas first— the timetables suggested may need adapting to suit your child's needs
- Your child will not be able to sit for hours to do formal work (at school they don't do 1:1 learning (which can be intense), and they have breaks time, story time, assembly, carpet time etc.
- Don't feel that you have to be an expert—your child can teach you and this will empower them
- Movement breaks and playtime are essential to burn off fidgety energy. Try short periods of work with big gaps between them.

Develop life skills including making health choices

Develop English skills—vocabulary, following instructions, reading skills

Develops Maths skills—measuring, ordering, time

Develops fine motor skills

Develops scientific knowledge

Develops geographical knowledge—where food comes from

Time away from technology

Develops self esteem and a sense of accomplishment

CALM DOWN WITH TAKE 5 BREATHING

- 1. Stretch your hand out like a star.
- Get your pointer finger ready to trace your fingers up and down.
- 3. Slide up each finger slowly ~ slide down the other side.
- 4. Breathe in through your nose ~ out through your mouth.
- Put it together and breathe in as you slide up and breathe out as you slide down. Keep going until you have finished tracing your hand.

At school, each class has a self-care toolkit to help support the children with their emotions.

You may wish to create a basket at home for them to use—soft toys, blankets, squishies, home made calming bottles etc could
